

THE EVENING BULLETIN

MONDAY, MAY 25, 1885.

The President has appointed Judge Wickliffe District Attorney for Kentucky.

Louisville can make good newspapers but Maysville can show her how to manufacture plows.

The Mormon missionaries report new converts every day in the mountain sections of the South.

Yesterday there was a lively removal of Mahone Postmasters in Virginia. The good work goes on.

Collector Robinson will not make any appointments in this district before about the first of July.

Pleuro-pneumonia has broken out afresh among the herds in the Brandywine and Christiana districts, Delaware.

The London Times says: "It is impossible to deny that the prevalent feeling of anxiety and uncertainty is still growing."

During the past seven days 239 failures occurred in the United States and 25 in Canada, as against 229 last week, and 248 the week previous.

Plowmen in part of Illinois are turning seventeen-year locusts out of the ground by countless thousands, and in an almost matured state.

Thomas Gardner has been nominated for the Legislature in Ballard County. He favors a division of the county, a question that will decide his election.

The Columbus Dispatch, Rep., says: The Ohio Republicans who propose to go into a political campaign with no other stock than the mistakes of Mr. Cleveland, will have a light load to carry.

The Philadelphia Times paragraphs thus: The way to turn the rascals out is to turn them out. Now and then there is an office that goes looking for a man, but its search is very brief.

Trouble is again brewing in Rowan County and another outbreak of lawlessness at an early day is not improbable. One faction, it is alleged, has openly violated the terms of agreement made by the leaders some time ago.

All the people are fast coming to the conclusion that our Democratic President is the genuine article, "all wool and a yard wide," twenty-four hours in a day and seven days in a week. There has evidently been a "change."

The Secretary of the Treasury on Saturday issued warrants for the payment of about $5,000,000 on account of pensions. It is estimated that the total payments in this account for the present month will be about $10,000,000.

The Boston Herald (Ind.) says: The President would be sustained by the best public sentiment in making a clean sweep of the Mahone officeholders in Virginia. They are offensive partisans, appointed by corrupt means for dishonest purposes.

General Butler denies that he is to write his life in the ordinary biographical way. He says it is to be done in the feuilleton style, a sort of paragraphic reminiscence in which he will touch on everybody and everything, from Bermuda Hundred to Black Friday and from special correspondence to spoons. It will be a very readable and snappy book.

The new Commissioner of Internal Revenue is said to be not only an efficient public officer, but kind and pleasant in his demeanor to his associates and the public with whom he comes in contact. He has named many persons for official positions in his department and his recommendations have in almost every case met with the cordial approbation of the Secretary of the Treasury and the President. The Revenue service under his administration will be greatly improved.

One of the most fruitful sources of epidemics and typhoid diseases is the use of water taken from wells in large cities. The repulsive filth from vaults finds its way into nearly every well in the central part of town, carrying the germs of sickness and death to those who use the water. So great is the evil arising from the use of water taken from wells in the populous portions of large towns that it has often been proposed to close all such by municipal enactments.

In the Internal Revenue Bureau since the 4th of March over two thousand offensive partisans have been discharged from office and replaced by Democrats. It is the opinion in official circles at Washington that before the meeting of the next Congress the entire Internal Revenue service of the country will be in Democratic hands. Thus far the appointments have been of a highly satisfactory character and show that the President is doing his utmost to select none but the best business men for these places.

MITCHELL AND CLEARY.

Both Men in Fine Form, but the Latter is Vanquished.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The Mitchell-Cleary match was declared a draw. Police interfered or Cleary would have been knocked out in another round. An audience of 8,000 attended. The men appeared in the ring at 10:30 p. m., apparently in the pink of condition. Harry Maynard acted as second for Mitchell and Jack Dempsey for Cleary. Tom Chandler and Billy Jordan were referees. In the first round Mitchell displayed the most science and was speedier in delivery, getting in one powerful blow on the head and two heavy body blows. Cleary got in one blow on Mitchell's ribs.

Round Second—Heavy in fighting; Mitchell fighting Cleary over the ropes. Neither of the men was much injured, and the audience hissed "Hippodrome."

Round Third—Mitchell fought Cleary all around the ring, but Cleary got in several good body blows.

Round Fourth—Mitchell began slugging Cleary from the start and had things his own way. The round finally became so brutal that the police interfered, and the referees declared the match a draw. Cleary was badly punished, and could not have stood up through another round.

KANSAS CITY DISGRACED.

Bad Blood in the Municipality Vents Itself in Council Chambers.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 25.—A long contest in municipal affairs has ended by the nomination by the mayor and confirmation by the council of Benjamin R. Whitney as city engineer. Ever since the spring election an investigation of M. B. Knight, city engineer for the last three years, has been in progress. The Knight issue was the only issue in the city election. More bad blood has been stirred up over this matter than anything in the history of the city. Col. R. H. Hunt, ex-mayor and a prominent politician, indulged in a street fight with Col. W. R. Nelson, proprietor of the Evening Star, a Knight organ.

Scenes in the council are a disgrace to even western civilization. The president of the council, Mr. Ford, attacked with a heavy cane Reporter Whitney, who had reported Ford's utterances as made the night before. The reporter rose from his table after being struck over the shoulders and knocked President Ford out, and also a contractor, Pryor, who came to Ford's assistance. By this time a general aldermanic row was in progress, and was only stopped by the strenuous efforts of a large force of police.

A Little Lock of Hair.

ATLANTA, May 25.—A lock of hair which was held up for a jury here was the culminating point in a strange story. Alex Ratteree, is seventy-five years old, and is the owner of a large plantation upon which he has many women tenants. The late belle of the place, Sarah Chapman, was abandoned for a younger companion. Sarah called upon her successor, when Ratteree entered and beat Sarah almost to death. She caused his arrest and in court she held up a large handful of hair as a specimen of what Ratteree had taken from her head. When the jury retired it sent again for the hair, and returned ten minutes later, the foreman carrying the hair in one hand, and the verdict of guilty in the other.

SPRING FEVER

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

IRON PILLS

THE BEST TONIC.

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, Pale Color, etc. It is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, builds up the system. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do.

Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, O., says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."

Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other.

PINKEYE!

Remarkable Cure of a Horse

Colonel James L. Fleming, a prominent grocery merchant, a member of the firm of Fleming & Lofton, Augusta, Ga., makes the following statement of the treatment of the treatment of a valuable horse with Swift's Specific:

In the fall of 1883 I had a valuable colt taken with a severe case of pink eye, which resulted in the most fearful case of blood poisoning I have ever seen. After eight or nine months of doctoring with every remedy that I could hear of, I despaired of a cure. At this time the horse was unable to move, because of swollen limbs. His right hind leg was as large as a man's body, and had on it over forty running sores. He had also number of large on his body and other limbs. He was a most pitiable looking object, and I was advised to end his sufferings with the shot gun. He was a valuable animal and I did not want to lose him. After racking my brain in search for another remedy more efficacious, I thought of Swift's Specific. I knew it was invaluable to the human family as a blood purifier, and why should it not be for the animal as well? I did not hesitate, but sent last July to Atlanta for a supply.

I began the treatment with four ounces of S. S. S. and four ounces of water three times a day. This I continued for a week. Then I increased the dose to six ounces of each, and continued for a week. Then I increased to eight ounces and run it a week, when I went back to six ounces again. The result was that at the end of the first week the horse had a fair appetite, which he had not had since his sickness. At the end of the second week even greater improvement was apparent, for many of the sores were healing nicely, and the horse manifested a desire to move about. At the end of the third week he began to show gain in flesh, and had full appetite. The swelling had about disappeared. I used in all about fifteen bottles of Swift's Specific, and when I quit its use the horse had only four small sores left on him, and they healed up immediately.

In August last all symptoms of the disease passed away, and up to date no signs of the return of the trouble have made their appearance, and the horse has done a mile's work on my farm.

I regard it one of the most remarkable cures I have ever known. Thus the great medicine has proven a boon to the animal as well as the human race.
